

One-stop Shop for All Long-Term Post-Acute Care Operational Needs

In long-term post-acute care, both providers and patients are moving target, yet providers lack an ancillary team of assistants to navigate their day-to-day.

Besides seeing patients, providers need to take care of all other aspects of practice management from managing revenues, maintaining proper credentialing, training staff, and dealing with operational issues within their practice.

These operational tasks are sometimes time-consuming, repetitive and take away from the time dedicated to patient care.

Your time is best spent delivering quality care to your patients. TheSNFist™ suite of services and solutions covers all long-term care operational and administrative needs so you can focus on just that.

One point of contact, one vendor, allowing you more time to take care of the patients you love.

TheSNFist™ suite brings together all the technology and managed service that you need to up-level your operation. One vendor means one point of contact for all your contracts and engagements.
